I clearly understand that patient is suffering a from a disease called Acute on chronic liver failure , a condition which is of very high risk of complications and even death of the patient. I also understand liver transplantation would be the ideal treatment of the disease. Details of liver transplantation has been clearly explained to us. An option of plasma exchange and it's pros and cons were also explained to us. After discussions we consciously accept to proceed with plasma exchange as a possible salvage measure to help the patient tide over the current crisis.
